

---

HOME

---

6 New Art Exhibits To See Now

June 4, 2025

Seasons change, and so do art exhibits. Galleries and museums all over the state are rolling out fresh art by new, exciting talent and old favorites alike.

Whether you're looking for inspiration, enrichment, an indoor daytrip or a new piece for your collection, here are a few options to see:

Photo courtesy of Art House Productions

Art House Productions. Billing itself as “Jersey City’s home for the performing and visual arts,” Art House Productions opens its new group gallery “Through My Eyes” from June 6 to 29. This multidisciplinary exhibit centers artists who have some kind of mental or physical disability and aims to “highlight lived experiences and diverse perspectives.”

Photo courtesy of Hunterdon Art Museum

Hunterdon Art Museum. This Clinton museum has two new exhibitions running for summer. One, "Selections from The Petrucci Family Foundation Collection of African American Art," highlights work from five contemporary African American artists. The other, "Pulp: The Fluid and The Concrete," is dedicated to the art of hand papermaking.

Photo courtesy of Morris Museum

Morris Museum. Two new exhibits open at this Morristown staple this month. Opening June 19 is “Troy Jones: Echoes of the Diaspora,” which explores the African mask as a symbol of heritage, transformation and cultural continuity. Opening June 26 is “Tula Telfair: Nature Does Not Locate Itself,” which spotlights the hyper-realistic landscapes of the artist.

Photo courtesy of Montclair Art Museum

The Montclair Art Museum. Newly opened in mid-May, this salon-style gallery features 19 works by celebrated American landscape artist George Inness. It tracks the progression of Inness's work over his lifetime, from his realist art rooted in European landscape conventions to his later, more abstract expressions of landscape that express a unity of material and spiritual existence.

Photo courtesy of Visual Arts Center of New Jersey

The Visual Arts Center of New Jersey. In Summit, an exhibition entitled “The Garden State” opens June 22. The photography exhibit, which also celebrates 30 years of the fine art photography group NJ Photography Forum, features curated responses to the question “What does the Garden State mean to you?” The images capture New Jersey’s “agricultural and industrial spirit.”

Photo courtesy of Noyes Museum of Art

Noyes Museum of Art. The art gallery of Stockton University, Noyes presents two different exhibitions this summer at its Atlantic City location. One is multimedia sculpture artist Jack Knight's Ontario Series—he creates eye-popping architectural “box” pieces with found objects. The other features the art of Kimisha Turner, known for her innovative blend of abstraction, surrealism and symbolism. Both exhibits debuted May 10.

Want to keep up with the best from all around the Garden State? Be sure to check out the NEW edition on NJ HOME.

Filed Under: Newsletter

FREE: SIGN UP HERE FOR OUR MONTHLY
ENEWSLETTER AND DIGITAL EDITIONS OF NJ HOME

Email:

JOIN

NJ HOME IN PRINT

CLICK TO VIEW OUR PRINT ISSUES

SUBSCRIBE TO NJ HOME IN PRINT

RECENT ARTICLES

Partner Content
A Conversation With Interior Designer
Diane Durocher

May 15, 2026

Making Home Their Own

May 7, 2026

New In Surf City

May 7, 2026

NJ HOME is a luxury publication showcasing the finest in New Jersey real estate, home furnishings and home design. Written by expert contributors, curated by award-winning editors and featuring stunning images by leading architectural photographers, NJ HOME is both a dream book and a source book for its shelter-savvy readers.

Real Estate

Design

Sourcebook

To learn more about exclusive partnership opportunities, please call 201.571.2252 or email thomas.flannery@wainscotmedia.com.

Search the site ...

---

© Copyright 2026 Wainscot Media · All Rights Reserved